Extolled as the “Romantic Capital” and “Northern Pearl of China”, Dalian was given the honor of being named a “Model Environmental City” by the UN on Jun 5, 2001. It was the first city in China to receive this honor and only the second in Asia. Dalian is located in the southernmost part of the Liaodong Peninsula in northeast China, with the Yellow Sea to the east and the Bohai Sea to the west. It is one of the most important industrial cities and a main seaport of China.

Dalian is also a modern tourism city. It is famous for fashion, football and its annual beer festival. Every year, Dalian International Fashion Festival attracts thousands of dazzling celebrities, designers; pop stars and clothing merchants from both home and abroad. They come together to present a fashion-feast for the world.
